10. Veterinary certificates are required, the necessary forms will be sent with the B-Bogen and can be downloaded on the homepage (www.zwergkaninchen-wm.at). There is no compulsory vaccination for rabbits.

11. Competition:

Dwarf rabbit World Cup:

World Champion: In 24 animals of one breed and color, both sexes of 3 exhibitors a world champion will be awarded (minimum points: 376). If 48 animals from 5 exhibitors are registered in one breed and color, a 1st Vice World Champion title will be awarded, with 72 animals and 7 exhibitors a 2nd Vice World Champion will be awarded.

Breeds of the same color with less than 24 animals are merged according to standard and the best collection receives the World Champion Title.

World Winner: From 24 animals of a breed the animal with the highest rating is awarded a World Champion, from 48 animals of the opposite sex a World Champion is awarded as well.

Youth Dwarf rabbit World Cup:

Youth World Champion: In 18 animals of one breed and color, both sexes of 2 exhibitors a Youth Champion is awarded (minimum points 376). If 36 animals from 4 exhibitors are registered in one breed and color a 1st Youth Vice World Champion Title will be awarded, with 54 animals and 6 exhibitors a 2nd Youth Vice World Champion will be awarded.

Races of the same color with less than 18 animals are merged according to the standard and the best collection receives the Youth World Champion Title.

Youth World Winner: From 18 animals of a breed the animal with the highest rating is awarded a Youth World Champion, from 36 animals of the opposite sex a Youth World Champion is awarded as well.

The issue of the honorary prizes takes place exclusively under presentation of the B-Bogen of the exhibitor!

12. Collection size and information on the calculation of the World Champion Titles:

Individual animals and collections can be exhibited. The collections consist of 4 to 6 animals of a breed and color of both sexes. Age up to 6 years. Dwarf rabbits must be self-bred. A exhibitor can also exhibit several collections, but only with 6 animals. Only the last collection can consist of 4-6 animals. For each collection, the points of the four highest rated animals are counted together, but at least 1 animal per sex must be used. In the case of equality of points, the fifth animal is used before the sixth animal. If the collections continue to be equal, the procedure is the same as for the individual animals. In case of equality of points after checking the individual positions, two titles will be awarded.

Certificates and honorary prizes will be awarded to world champions and world winners. Honorary prizes are awarded for all donated cash prizes and awarded to the exhibitors with the donated honorary and outrage prizes. The honor prize will be closed on Sunday at 12 noon. The B-Bogen of the exhibitor must be presented for the price collection. Uncleared prices go back without exception to the exhibition management.

13. By submitting the application, the exhibitor expressly agrees with the exhibition regulations, the publication of the data recorded in the registration form and all exhibition results in the exhibition catalog and on the internet. The personal data of the exhibitor are stored in the database of the RÖK. By signing the registration form, the exhibitor, one of the legal representatives of youth exhibitors, agrees to the publication of all personal data in the catalog. Furthermore, these data and photos, including those of the animals, can be transmitted to print- and other media. Lists of exhibitor data can be published on the homepages of the RÖK and the ZKCÖ.

14. Should the Dwarf Rabbit World Championships and the Junior Dwarf Rabbit World Cup due to force majeure, unforeseen events, epidemics or similar, not take place the costs incurred until cancellation (hall rental, purchases, ect.) are deducted as a percentage of the cost contribution.

15. Additional donations may be made to the account of ZKCÖ, RB Eisenwurzen Region, IBAN: AT76 3293 9002 0400 8785, BIC: RLNWATWW939. Please send top honor donations to the exhibition manager. All donations received by 20th of October 2019 will be published in the exhibition catalog.
